Netanya AACI is privileged to announce that Amos Oz will be giving a talk on changes in Israeli society from the establishment of the State to the present day.

Amos Oz (born May 4, 1939) is Israel's most famous living author - a novelist, journalist and intellectual. He is Professor of Literature at Ben-Gurion University in Beer Sheva. His work has been published in 43 countries and in 42 languages, including Arabic, and he has received countless notable awards, among them the French Legion of Honor, the Israel Prize, the Goethe Prize, the Prince of Asturias Award in Literature, the Heinrich Heine Prize and Honorary Doctorates from several universities, including Trinity College Dublin.

His autobiography, A Tale of Love and Darkness, is justifiably described as a masterpiece. The book recalls Oz's amazing life journey from childhood and adolescence along Jerusalem's war-torn streets in the 1940s and 50s. It meanders through the irony and heartbreak, history and humanity that make up a magical portrait of the artist who saw the birth of a nation and came through its turbulent life, as well as his own.

According to one reviewer: "If you have ...two days left to live, then you should do one more thing to die without regrets, and that is to read this book."
