Ben Gurion Epilogue is an astonishing film which has been produced from six hours of archive material recently uncovered by the filmmakers. We see David Ben-Gurion interviewed in 1968 at the age of 82, five years before his death. At the time of this series of interviews, he is living in his secluded home in the desert, removed from all political discourse, and this allows us to appreciate his hindsight perspective on the Zionist enterprise. Ben-Gurion's introspective soul-searching is the focus of this film and his clear voice provides a surprising vision for today's crucial decisions and the future of Israel.

Yael Perlov is a film editor and producer who currently teaches at Tel Aviv University. She has produced, initiated and edited a great number of films, among them a series of 2010-2014 shorts by Israeli and Palestinian student crews entitled Coffee, Water and Sport, made in collaboration with the Embassies of the U.S. and France, plus a series about women writers called A Room Of Your Own (2002-2009).

Ben Gurion Epilogue received the Israeli Film and TV Academy Award for best documentary 2017. In producing this fascinating and highly-acclaimed film, Yael is following in the footsteps of her father, David Perlov, who was awarded the Israel Prize in 1999 for his contribution to cinema.
